

POWER InDust 50 SP OIL

Industrial vacuum cleaners for oil and shavings - single-phase

The POWER InDust 50 OIL is an industrial vacuum specifically designed for the suction, separation and recovery of oil, shavings and coolants. Its compact size, large collection tank—which can hold up to 50 liters of liquid and separate up to 30 liters of solid chips—and two powerful, high-performance bypass motors make it the ideal solution for the mechanical, automotive, and plastics industries. The multi-stage filtration process ensures that aspirated liquids and shavings with a diameter greater than 3 mm are retained by the sieve basket, with any additional residues intercepted by the liquid filter. The air is finally purified by passing through a 50-micron PPL filter and a 10PPI foam disc before being released into the environment. This model is equipped with a mechanical float to stop suction when the maximum liquid collection capacity is reached. At the end of the job, the tank can be easily emptied via the 30 mm drain hose, equipped with a ball valve and located at the rear of the machine. The model features a sturdy frame with a practical discharge hose holder and oil-resistant braking wheels.
